NOTICE TO FILING PARTY

You must attach the following documents to this request:

- Proposed Direction for Production (Form 8) or Proposed Summons to Attend (Form 8B)
- Draft Order
- Notice to Producer (Service and Execution of Process Regulation – Form 5)

The Commission will not accept this form if any of the above documents are not attached, or are incorrect or incomplete. You must also complete all parts of this form.

If there is insufficient space in any field on this form, insert 'see annexure' in the field and attach the information as an annexure to the form.

Reason for Request (all fields must be completed)

Why is production of the documents or things specified in each proposed direction for production or the summons to attend deemed to be necessary in the interests of justice?

Time for Complying (all fields must be completed)

Demonstrate that there will be enough time for the person to whom each proposed direction for production or summons to attend is addressed to comply without hardship or serious inconvenience.

Note: Section 30(1)(a) of the Service and Execution of Process Act 1992 provides that service must be effected not less than 14 days before the production date or date of attendance.

Privacy of Personal Information

The privacy of personal information is important to the Workers Compensation Commission. The Commission collects personal information to register application forms and make decisions about disputes or claims. The NSW workers compensation laws permit the Commission to collect this information.

The Commission may give personal information to another person or agency (e.g. a doctor, a party, State Insurance Regulatory Authority) as required or authorised by law.

Decisions by the Commission will generally be published, including on the Internet, unless there are exceptional circumstances justifying the decision being withheld.

A person has a right to access their personal information and correct any inaccuracies.
